Diner bugged by cockroach in McDonald's

EXCLUSIVE

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MCDONALD'S restaurant said it is working to rid its premises of cockroaches after customers complained of not-so-Happy Meals.

The town centre branch of the fast-food chain in George Street, Luton, was on Friday found by council inspectors to have 'cockroach activity', following complaints.

Regular customer Mairlina Jovic, 24, of Leagrave, certainly was not 'Loving It' – or so the McDonald's jingle goes – when she was eating in the restaurant on Tuesday after spotting one of the creepy crawlies scuttling across a wall.

Mairlina, who took a photo of the creature on her mobile phone, said: "I was in the upstairs seating area with a number of friends for a birthday lunch.

"We were eating our meals when I noticed a cockroach running up the wall next to us.

"I quickly managed to grab a picture which I took to show a member of staff, who I believe to be a manager.

"He said he had seen the insects

EVIDENCE: Customer's picture of bug

before, but didn't offer a solution or tell me that they were going to do anything about it.

"To see an insect and then get the reaction I did from a member of staff, I am absolutely disgusted."

The outlet was given a top Food Hygiene Rating of five stars by Luton Borough Council in April, but this incident won't automatically result in a new rating being issued.

A council spokesman said: "One of our food safety officers visited McDonald's on Friday.

"The store has a food safety management system in place and also has regular visits from a professional pest control company.

"Some cockroach activity was seen in an area where no food is stored, prepared or handled.

"The officer is satisfied that appropriate action is being taken by McDonald's to deal with this."

A McDonald's spokesman said: "We would like to apologise to this customer for any distress caused. We are investigating and are working closely with Ecolab to resolve any issue.

"We would like to reassure our customers that cleanliness and hygiene are a priority and we adhere to the highest standards with strict audit and control programmes to ensure food safety."

Meanwhile, Julian Dow, Marketing Manager of The Mall, where the restaurant is situated, said: "This isn't a problem that we are aware of, and we can assure customers this isn't a problem that has affected any other of our catering outlets."

Panic: Jacqueline Bunting with her pet dog 'Wolf'

'Find driver who hit pet'

A DOG owner is calling for witnesses to come forward after her pet was hit by a car which then failed to stop.

Jacqueline Bunting, 57, of Tithe Farm Road, Houghton Regis, was taking her dog, Wolf, for a walk on Tuesday, when she stopped at a pedestrian crossing at The Green at 1pm.

When the lights turned red the traffic stopped, but as the pair made their way across the road a dark blue hatchback began to move, hit the dog and sent him 'flying' before driving away.

Wolf, a ten-year-old Alsatian/Collie cross, has been left with a limp following the distressing incident, and has since been in a state of shock, staying close to his owner at all times.

Mrs Bunting, said: "I couldn't believe it. Wolf was knocked clean off of his feet and sent flying – I thought he was dead.

"In my panic I went rushing over to see he was okay and by the time I turned around the driver was too far away and I couldn't see the registration plate.

"There were a lot of people around at the time, and I hope someone can help me."

If tracked down the driver could be charged under Section 4 of the Animal Welfare Act for causing unnecessary suffering to an animal.

SPEED CAMERAS PLAN

BEDFORDSHIRE and Luton is one of 18 road safety partnerships without digital speed cameras.

The newer digital cameras are designed to be more efficient as they are easier to maintain and don't need to have any film changed like the standard cameras.

A spokeswoman for Bedfordshire Police said they were planning 'to introduce a fixed camera digitalisation programme over the next five years'.

POLICE ABUSER TAGGED
A TEENAGER who subjected two police officers to racial abuse and threatened to shoot them will be electronically monitored for 12 weeks.

Jordan James, 18, of Norton Road, Luton, called an Asian officer a 'P*** c***' and his colleague a 'white b*****' after being arrested for throwing punches in a fight in the town centre on August 27.

He pleaded guilty to using threatening and abusive words of behaviour with intent to cause fear or provoke unlawful violence, and using racially aggravated harassment, alarm or distress by words.

BLOW TO PRIVATISATION
PLANS for Bedfordshire Police to be privatised were dealt a blow on Friday when a new option to rival a G4S model was recommended.

An in-house business case called Option 10 was put forward for the soon-to-be-elected Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) to choose from in December.

Bedfordshire Police Authority member Colleen Atkins said: "I'm heartened the new PCC will have a sound business case and can confidently choose Option 10 and that our residents know it's in the best interest of Bedfordshire."

EXPERTISE: Work on the busway project

£1m consultant bills for council

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.com

A CONSULTING company contracted to work out of the Town Hall has been paid nearly £1 million by a council over seven years for work on various projects including the Luton Dunstable Busway.

The Cunningham Consultancy Ltd has received £968,000 since 2005 from Luton Borough Council for a number of engineering projects in the town, but the council says it can't say how much was related to the busway.

One of the consultancy firm's directors, Philip Cunningham, is a project manager for the £89 million busway scheme.

Some of his responsibilities include the overall co-ordination and management of the different aspects of the project such as the on-street bus stops and CCTV.

He has been based at the Town Hall as part of a contract with the council since 2004, but the council has said its accounting records only go back as far as 2005.

It also said around 85 per cent of the payments made to the Hertfordshire-based firm have been funded by Government grants and other funds. However, the council said it was unable to give a figure as this 'would take some time to work out'.

Robert Oxley, campaign manager at the TaxPayers' Alliance, said: "Consultants offer help on short-term projects. The length of Philip Cunningham's contract at the council will suggest to many that he is actually a full-time employee. Full-time employees should be on the payroll and taxpayers' money should not be used to fund ways of reducing the tax bill."

"The council must be completely open on these things because taxpayers who are hard pressed want to be assured that the employees they fund through their money are paying their fair share of tax."

Luton on Sunday made efforts to contact The Cunningham Consultancy Ltd but our calls were not returned. A council spokesman said: "We have used the specialist services of Cunningham Consultancy Ltd over a number of years to provide expertise to deliver some of the region's most important engineering projects. This is usual for any authority delivering major engineering projects of this nature. Having the consultancy based in the Town Hall has been hugely beneficial to the council as the work is not done in isolation, meaning specialist knowledge, skills and expertise are being passed on to our own engineering team."

"This helps to upskill staff – many of whom are local – for future projects. This is one part of the council's overall successful strategy for reducing consultancy spend where we have already reduced consultancy spend by 80 per cent (or £6 million) since 2005/06."

"The council has never directly employed Phil Cunningham so he is not on the PAYE system. Payments to Philip Cunningham personally are a matter for his consultancy company, not the council."

The council has also said it is 'currently making regular monthly payments in respect of ongoing work done by five individuals who are either engaged via a company or are self-employed and doing work for the council as part of their employment'.

SORE POINT:
Julie Marsh with

'I almost swallowed a nail in my bag of nuts'

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WOMAN claims she almost swallowed a false nail which she put into her mouth while eating a bag of mixed nuts.

Julie Marsh, 47, of Harefield Road, Luton, says she has developed a lung infection as a result of munching the nibbles, which she says she bought from ASDA in Court Drive, Dunstable.

Mrs Marsh says she reached into her mouth and 'fished out' the nail which she initially assumed was a hard peanut.

She said: "I was sitting in the front room with my family watching television, chewing away and when I went to swallow I felt this hard thing in my mouth. I thought it was a nut but I fished it out of my mouth and found this false plastic nail.

"ASDA have said they would do a full investigation into how this happened and said they will come back to me. I have been to the doctor and my throat is now inflamed.

"The doctor thinks it scarred the back of my throat. I have got a lung infection and now I also have asthma so I am having to use a ventilator. I am taking antibiotics and having difficulty breathing during my sleep sometimes.

"It could have been worse; imagine if it had been a younger person? I had my grandchildren with me that night and thank God I never gave them some."

The following day Mrs Marsh contacted ASDA before visiting a doctor as she had developed a sore throat.

A spokeswoman for ASDA said: "I can confirm we are investigating and will keep the customer updated of progress."

Central Bedfordshire Councillor Ian Dalgarno said: "The council was contacted on Thursday with this allegation and we will be meeting with Ms Marsh on Monday to discuss the incident and consider what further action can be taken.

"Once we have seen the pack of fruit and nut mix and the foreign body we will be able to begin our investigation."

Coroner's buildings could be on the move

THE coroner's office in Luton is set to move to Central Bedfordshire in an effort to centralise the administration system.

Central Bedfordshire Council has plans to merge the HM Coroner's offices in Stopsley, Luton, and Bedford to become a central hub in Ampthill.

A spokeswoman for Bedford Coroner's Court said: "We know the Luton office is going to be relocated but the courts in Bedford and Dunstable will remain the same for now."

Central Beds confirmed the Luton office is expected to move to Bedford temporarily in November when the current lease on the building comes to an end.

The courts themselves, in Bedford and Dunstable, will then be moved to Ampthill no later than September next year when their lease ends.

Central Bedfordshire Cllr and executive member for resources, Maurice Jones said: "This move will represent a saving for all three councils."

PCC hopefuls sign pledge to victims

VICTIM Support, a national charity for victims of crime, has called on all PCC candidates to sign up to five pledges to ensure that victims' needs are a key priority for their work.

They include being open and accountable to victims and witnesses, ensuring they get the high quality help they need and making the police more victim-focused and effective at meeting their needs.

All three of the candidates who attended the event – Labour candidate Olly Martins, Conservative Jas Parmar, and Liberal Democrat Linda Jack – have signed the document.

Victim support chief executive Javed Khan explained why the pledge was so important. He said: "Crime can and does wreck lives. Even what might be seen as a relatively minor crime can have a major and sometimes permanent effect on victims and witnesses.

"PCCs already have a statutory duty of responsibility towards victims. Now we want to encourage and help PCCs to put victims and witnesses at the heart of the criminal justice system in their police force area."

During the two-hour hustings at

THREE of Bedfordshire's Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) candidates this week attended a hustings event organised by charity Victim Support. The meeting allowed staff working in the fields of victim and witness care to quiz three of the prospective PCCs about their priorities ahead of the elections on November 15. Reporter LAUREN ARCHER went along.

the Rufus Centre, Flitwick, candidates were asked tricky questions, including how the elected PCC would ensure all victims' views and experiences were heard, and how they would ensure service remains high despite the cuts to police budgets.

Labour candidate Mr Martins said that he would ensure that lines of communication would be open and victims would be able to use social media including Facebook and Twitter to contact him. Talking about the cuts, he added that he did not agree with them, and would be fighting against them and any further proposals to save money.

Lib Dem candidate Ms Jack said that despite her party being in coalition with the Conservatives, she did not agree with cutbacks and said she wouldn't be afraid to campaign against them.

She said that with her background in youth work and arranging national projects she is not only able to listen to candidates but has the experience to bring organisations to work together to provide a more effective service.

Finally, Tory candidate Mr Parmar said that he would arrange meetings throughout Bedfordshire to allow victims to share their experiences and that he would be available to listen at any time.

He said that he would be running a positive campaign, and that the elected PCC would have to live with the fact that cuts were going to happen. He added that despite the cutbacks, having an effective manager and inspired leader would be key, and those were qualities that he could bring to the role.

Missing from the meeting was British Freedom Party candidate Kevin Carroll, who the charity chose not to invite. A late addition to the race on Friday was Independent candidate Mezanur Rashid.

'Gutted' Sandra is ko'd after missing deadline

SAUNDRA Glenn, from Luton, who put herself forward as an Independent candidate for the top police role, is 'gutted' about not lodging her nomination before Friday's deadline.

She said she was in the Town Hall in Luton a good 20 minutes before but was waiting for her two colleagues to bring in the £5,000 needed to officially register as a candidate. Unfortunately they didn't arrive until around 12.10pm and Sandra said officials told her there was nothing they could do as they had to follow Home Office rules. Soon after she tweeted: "To all my supporters, my forms, nominees & £5k in place but sadly not lodged by noon deadline today so not in race."

She said: "I'm absolutely gutted as I know I would have made a great PCC. I had managed to get the 100 signatures needed but I couldn't pay the deposit with a debit or credit card. Two people were bringing me the banker's drafts but they got held up."

Delight as M1 link is approved at last

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE A5-M1 link road has finally been given the go-ahead by Government nine years after it was first announced.

Central Bedfordshire Council has been fighting for the Dunstable Northern Bypass – which will consist of a dual carriageway running east from the A5 north of Dunstable to join the M1 at a new Junction 11a south of Chalton – since Alistair Darling first revealed that the road would be built in July 2003.

Doubt was soon cast over the plans, when the Government announced that there was 'uncertainty over the availability of funding' and it decided to postpone a local enquiry into the proposals.

But in 2010, Central Beds tried to get the scheme back on track by writing to the Secretary of State for Transport offering to enter into an agreement to underwrite the cost of reinstating the public inquiry into the scheme.

An announcement made on Friday revealed that the Secretaries of State for Transport and Communities Local Government have accepted an inspector's recommendation, which means that the bypass should be built as soon as possible. Work is due to start in 2014 once power lines have been moved next summer.

It is hoped that once constructed the link road will reduce journey times and improve reliability for long distance traffic travelling through Dunstable. In addition, it is expected the bypass will reduce traffic travelling to Junctions 11 and 12 from the local road network in Dunstable, Houghton Regis and surrounding areas.

South West Bedfordshire MP

Andrew Selous, who first called for the bypass to be built in 2001, has welcomed the news.

He said: "This is wonderful news for the whole of South West Bedfordshire. Traffic jams will be greatly reduced in Dunstable and Houghton Regis and villages like Totternhoe, Kensworth and Toddington will see much less through traffic."

"I believe that South West Bedfordshire will now realise its full potential in creating jobs and wealth."

GPs call for axing of cash incentives

BY KATHRYN CAIN
 editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A COMMITTEE of GPs is calling for a controversial financial reward scheme to be scrapped.

Dr Peter Graves, the chief executive of the Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire Local Medical Committee (LMC), has written to all practices in the county saying it 'cannot support or condone such incentive schemes in whatever way they might be worded'.

It comes just two months into the scheme which gives practices the chance to earn up to £21,000 extra each year for not referring patients to hospitals.

Dr Graves said: "All doctors agree to put patients' needs first so any GP making the decision not to refer a patient is a blatant conflict of interest if they are being rewarded for doing so."

"If, for example, GPs were going out of their way to refer patients to the private sector everyone would be up in arms – this is the same but in reverse. GPs should be putting patients' interests before financial incentive of any sort, particularly as the number of complaints against GPs has risen over the past ten years."

A concerned GP, who wished to remain anonymous, wrote: "GP leaders nationally from the GP committee of the BMA have condemned these schemes and asked the health watchdog, the GMC, to look into them and they too have been very critical.

"Despite these criticisms, the Bedfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group (BCCG) continues to promote this scheme. Chief executive John Rooke was given a rough ride at a meeting of Bedford GPs and practice managers last week and local GPs are very unhappy with the scheme but feel their views are being ignored."

Dr Peter Parry Okeden, vice chair of the BCCG, said: "I fully understand the LMC's concern about investment schemes that are seen as rewarding GPs for not referring patients to hospital who should be referred."

"We still expect every GP to use their professional judgment to continue referring patients to hospital when that is what they need. Practices can choose not to take part in the scheme and GPs will be involved in designing next year's scheme."

Let's do something to protect our architecture and heritage

SIR - Luton on Sunday deserves full credit for drawing to our attention the recent report by English Heritage, which confirms that two of Luton's five conservation areas, High Town Road and Plaisters Lea, are at risk as a result of neglect, decay and inappropriate development.

This will come as little surprise to our readers, who will be only too well aware of the disappearance of many of our town's historic buildings over the years, and the spoiling of many more through redevelopment.

Sadly, there is little left of our heritage in Luton's town centre, and what is left is in poor condition and unattractive.

It is a matter of huge regret that over several decades, and thanks to the incompetence and lack of understanding on the part of successive elected councillors and local authority planners, many buildings of architectural and historic significance in Luton have been demolished or altered beyond repair in order to accommodate the town's housing needs, modern shopping trends and commercial/retail functions. This loss is still continuing, as Luton undergoes a period of redevelopment and regeneration to counter the effects of the recession and the loss of traditional industry and employment opportunities. But more and more Lutonians are increasingly concerned about this loss of our historic environment, and about the consequent damage to our quality of life, and for this reason the Luton Heritage Forum was set up in 2011 to act as a focus for voluntary and community action to improve our town and help save what remains of its historic, architectural and archaeological heritage.

I would welcome the views and comments of your readers on the sad state of our historic heritage, and what might be done to stop the rot.

Our website - www.lutonheritageforum.org - can be used for this purpose, and it also provides a fascinating database of Luton's conservation areas and buildings of local interest.

It's our town - let's make it a better place to live and work in.

Standing up for Luton

SIR - I was delighted to see in Luton on Sunday last week that the party leaders of Luton Borough Council have put aside their political differences to stand up for Luton.

Whatever you think of the Government's austerity programme, it seems only fair that cuts in local government funding should take account of the different needs of different councils.

However, it is disappointing that Conservative Leader Michael Garrett still seems not to have grasped this point.

His comment that every local authority is in the same position is simply untrue.

Councils like Luton are suffering more because, for instance, houses in our community tend to be in the lower council tax bands.

Also, other councils are complaining too. Only last month Sir Merrick Cockell, the Conservative Leader of Kensington and Chelsea Council and chairman of the Local Government Association, said that if the Government continues its present course, councils could run out of cash within five years.

K Adjei

Health risk of rats

SIR - As I drove down Adelaide Street, Luton, this week near the police station I disturbed a magpie pecking out the eyes of a dead rat.

Rats are a major risk to the health of the community. They can assist transmission of serious diseases, including the plague, dysentery, leptospirosis and typhus fever.

Their fleas, lice and ticks can also adversely affect pets and humans. Their excreta and hair contaminate food and utensils, causing food poisoning and economic loss. Rat colonies damage and foul buildings and furnishings, and they generate a terrible smell. Rats gnawing will damage buildings, pipes, conduits and wiring and has been the cause of electrical fires.

In central Luton I regularly see takeaway cartons strewn on the pavement - still containing much of their contents which is food for rats and pigeons.

I suggest a three-pronged attack on this problem by the council.

Firstly, the promotion of a by-law to compel all food takeaway outlets to mandate provision of a rubbish bin outside their premises, its cleanliness to be the responsibility of the proprietor.

Bins would feature information on rat/vermin danger in graphic or cartoon form. Secondly, active enforcement of the anti-litter laws. Thirdly, education of young people and adults about the danger to public health and safety posed by rats and vermin.

It is unhelpful that sewers are no longer routinely baited for rats but only when an outbreak of rats is reported. The only advantage I can see in this is that it saves the privatised water company money.

Hill Close, Luton

Spotlight on McKinnon

SIR - The decision announced by Theresa May that Gary McKinnon is not going to be extradited to the USA surely marks a new low point for both politicians and the media.

Both have portrayed Mr McKinnon for years as perhaps not having full mental capacity and an 'innocent' who was merely trying to ascertain the truth about UFOs - a poor person who was being hounded by a superpower.

The facts are very different. How could anybody with limited mental ability have the capacity to hack into top secret American security computer systems for more than ten years?

Furthermore the claims made by the Americans that Mr McKinnon damaged and corrupted files, plus leaving unpleasant messages, were largely ignored by politicians and the media.

Supporters of Mr McKinnon also cited the extradition agreement as being biased as the Americans did not have to provide the same level of proof to ask for an extradition.

As Mr McKinnon admitted he hacked into American computer systems what more 'proof' did the Americans need?

Coming so soon after five Muslims were extradited to America, what sort of message does this send to the world?

The activities of the Muslims were widely commented on by both politicians and the media, in stark contrast to Mr McKinnon's activities.

This is the latest blunder by Mrs May and surely she must rank as the worse Home Secretary we have ever had.

To show my disgust, in the only way I can, I have decided never again to vote for a person merely because they are standing as a Conservative candidate.

In future I will vote for the person despite the fact they are standing as a Conservative. I hope others will do the same.

Spare rooms concern

SIR - I'm writing about discrimination about council tenants, after talk about having to pay extra rent if you have a spare room or two bedrooms. Will landlords leave property empty a period of time be taxed? What about landlords with empty rooms in their properties?

Or MPs who have the right to use a house, but don't live in the area? If this is left empty for periods of time will they be taxed more?

There are others who get rebates, and those who get housing benefits automatically without having paid one penny into the system.

Take a good look at those who want to bring this policy in, they are all rich.

IS THERE anyone out there? More and more planets are being discovered, as our ability to probe deeper into space improves.

That does not mean that such planets could support life – whether it's as we know it or not – but it is likely a percentage will.

One scientist worked out that there would be at least ten planets in our galaxy that could support life, and that was before the new evidence appeared. As there are more than a billion galaxies, that adds up to quite a few.

So the question being asked is why they have not been making contact with us. Well perhaps they have. And maybe we don't know who they are. I have met quite a few people who could well be from another planet.

Or perhaps they have been studying us from afar and think we are best to avoid. Most likely is that the distances are too great and no-one has yet found a way of getting to warp factor 5.

To understand the distances, a planet has recently been discovered a mere 5,000 light years from us, that may sustain life. To get there with our fastest space rocket would take us more than 30 million years, which would need one hell of a pack-up. So, until or unless aliens can get close to the speed of light, they may be out there but we may never meet. Just think of them like your in-laws and the pain won't be too great.

In fact it may be just as well. If we look at the life forms on our lonely planet, there is something called the food chain. Those higher up eat the ones below them. And the ones at the top, us humans, eat or subjugate most creatures and are doing our best to destroy the only place we can live, Earth.

I've met people who could have arrived from another planet

We are also quite adept at conquering and killing each other.

Of course extra-terrestrial intelligent life may not be like us but I would not bet my mortgage on it. And imagine if we found a way of deep space travel. Do you think we would just go out there spreading peace and love? Or do what we have always done, create an empire, subjugate the poor aliens and take all their goodies away from them.

Once impoverished and broken, we would grant them independence, on condition they agreed to follow our monetary policy and continue to hand over anything they have left to our Intergalactic banks.

So even though there probably are aliens and civilizations out there it is perhaps of universal benefit not to be able to discover space travel. That could well be good for them and good for us.

Better to stay in splendid isolation.

IHAVE mixed feelings over the proposed cull of badgers. I am not one to get dewy-eyed over animals.

Those that are only seen keen on the cuddly or cute ones. So we save the dolphins but eat the tuna to extinction. Badgers fall half-way in the cute stakes.

The farmers say they need to cull them as they are increasing in numbers and give cattle TB. So they are going to be given licence to shoot them. Yet the badgers don't appear to give cattle TB in Scotland, and in Wales the authorities are planning to vaccinate rather than shoot them. If they must be killed they must be killed but I am a little sceptical of an alliance of the Conservative Government and farmers when it comes to shooting.

Council staff told: Follow road code

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

COUNCIL staff have been reminded they must follow the Highway Code after two authority vehicles were caught parked incorrectly in separate incidents.

On September 29, a Luton Borough Council van was reported using a disabled parking bay in Upper George Street, next to the Town Hall. An immediate investigation was launched after a passer-by took pictures of the vehicle.

That was the second parking embarrassment for the authority in recent months.

In June, Luton on Sunday published a picture of a council CCTV enforcement car illegally situated on double yellow lines.

As a result of the misdemeanours, council staff members have been issued with instructions to follow the Highway Code, which states in Section 238: 'Double yellow lines indicate a prohibition of waiting at any time even if there are no upright signs,' while Section 241 says: 'You must not park in spaces reserved for specific users, such as Blue Badge holders, residents or motorcycles, unless entitled to do so.'

A council spokesman said: "It would not be appropriate for us to discuss internal staffing issues but we can confirm that disciplinary procedures are being applied to the driver following an investigation."

"We have reminded staff that all drivers must follow the Highway Code."

Taking to the river to

IN the words of Rat in Wind in the Willows there is apparently NOTHING, absolutely nothing half so much worth doing as simply messing about in boats.

I tried to bear this in mind as I set off on a rainy evening last week into my latest venture into sport for the over 60s – Kayaking.

Now like many others I was delighted by the achievement of local boy Etienne Stott in winning his Gold Medal in Kayaking for Team GB this summer but taking up the oars myself was a totally different matter.

So it was with my heart in my mouth and my stomach doing cartwheels that I approached the river and my instructor for the session Richard Harpham.

Richard is a highly experienced sportsman and director of Inspired Life, which runs community programmes and activities for young people and communities.

He is also the joint expedition leader of the Big 5 Kayak Challenge, leading kayaking expeditions across the English Channel, the Straits of Gibraltar and even recently up the Hudson River to Manhattan.

I therefore was somewhat reassured that I would be in good hands.

Richard picked out a two-man vessel which he assured me was pretty stable on the open sea so we should be reasonably confident of staying upright on the River Great Ouse.

The first challenge was just carrying it to the river's edge. These things are not as lightweight as they look and I had a healthy dose of exercise before I even reached the water. Climbing in gently at the front of our two-man kayak, I asked where we were going. 'To the weir and the slalom', was the cry. I nearly did. We headed upstream quietly, as though to catch the slalom giant sleeping.

During this time Richard coached me on how to hold the paddle, at where to put it into the water and how to use it to turn left, right or stop.

In the sporting lessons I have taken so far, how to stop has been quite important.

Suddenly the water turned a little angry and we were at the slalom course.

We negotiated some of the gates, missed some and nearly got dragged into some very white water.

It was hard work, a bit scary at times but hugely enjoyable.

"You may be surprised to know that kayaking is Britain's most popular watersport with over 1.3 million people getting in a canoe or kayak each year," said Richard.

"There are 15 different disciplines in the one sport with something for everyone, for all ages from Olympic racing through to kayak surfing and sea kayaking and of course more recreation and touring by canoe and seeing Bedfordshire's rural scenes and wildlife by canoe or kayak is simply breathtaking."

Once over, gently canoeing back to the boathouse was incredibly relaxing and I found myself imagining me and the present Mrs Lowe meandering down the river on a lazy Sunday afternoon, with mobile phone switched off.

This is definitely a sport to which I will return.

Crime falls below national average

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

LATEST figures show crime levels in Bedfordshire have fallen below the national average.

There were 63 offences in the county per 1,000 population, – compared to a rate of 70 in England and Wales – in the 12-month period to June.

A summary of Bedfordshire Police's performance in the first quarter shows the force had:

■ A 19 per cent reduction in domestic burglary, compared with a six per cent reduction nationally

■ A 30 per cent reduction in non-domestic burglary – the highest reduction in England and Wales

■ A ten per cent reduction in sexual offences – Bedfordshire had the second lowest rate

■ An 11 per cent reduction in violence against the person compared to six per cent nationally.

One area in which the force said they are 'working hard to improve' is the reduction of the number of robberies. The force continue to see offences increase, placing them fourth highest in England and Wales.

Assistant Chief Constable Andrew Richer said: "This shows the force remains determined to drive down those crimes that most harm communities, including burglary, robbery and violence, as well as bringing to justice those responsible."

"While these figures are historic, what they do show is the success Bedfordshire Police is having in reversing previous trends and we remain committed to fighting crime and protecting the public."

Students' artwork on show at the Hoo

ART sculptures and 3D artefacts (pictured) designed and handcrafted by Barnfield College students have been displayed in Luton Hoo Walled Garden.

The beauty spot – which can be found in a small corner of the original Luton Hoo estate – has undergone a dramatic re-generation and restoration effort over the past few years, becoming a productive garden and a centre for arts and community events.

Each year, for new students on the foundation degree in craft design course, tutors run the live project, which culminates in a public exhibition of artwork.

MP backs a fall in unemployed figures

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

SOUTH West Bedfordshire MP Andrew Selous has welcomed the fall in the number of people claiming Job Seekers Allowance in South West Bedfordshire.

The number of unemployed claimants in the constituency last month has fallen to 2,134, a fall of 68 from the figure for the previous month.

Mr Selous (pictured left) said: "I am pleased to see this further fall in unemployment in South West Bedfordshire."

"I know that we have more work to do to provide all the jobs that people need locally, but it is good to see more people getting into work."

"It is encouraging that there are now more people in work than ever before."

"We still need to redouble our efforts to help all those looking for work to find it through creating the best possible conditions for businesses to grow locally and nationally."

These figures come just weeks after Luton on Sunday revealed that 13 per cent of households in the Central Bedfordshire Council area do not have even one occupant who is employed.

Since 2009 the number of workless households has more than doubled from 6,000 to 13,000 in 2011.

Central Beds Councillor Nigel Young said: "Central Beds has high economic activity and employment rates, but it appears that there is now a slightly higher proportion of people in Central Bedfordshire who are economically inactive and do not want a job."

The corresponding figure for workless households in Luton is 21 per cent.

Attacker punches victim and demands his phone

A MAN was struck over the head and punched in the stomach as a would-be robber tried to steal his phone.

The 31-year-old was walking home from work along Clarendon Road, Luton, at 11.15pm on October 2 when a man approached him.

He was using his phone as the man hit him over the head, and demanded he handed the device over.

He was then threatened and punched in the head before he could shout for help.

The would-be robber then ran off empty-handed.

The man is described as white, aged 28, 5ft 7ins tall with a stocky build, and was wearing a navy hooded pullover and grey tracksuit trousers.

Anyone with information can contact Detective Constable Surfraz Hussain, in confidence, on 01582 473055.

Hazard depot 'fine'

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carlmungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A COMPANY fined £24,000 for breaching health and safety laws has said it has 'rectified' working procedures since the incident.

Bestway Cash and Carry in Dallow Road pleaded guilty at Luton Magistrates' Court earlier this month to three offences under the Health and Safety laws.

Magistrates heard how a company employee fell into an unguarded loading and unloading bay, which forms a four-foot deep pit, while working in the 'goods in' area of the store's warehouse.

The employee escaped with minor injuries, despite the hard surface she fell on and the weight of the items that toppled on her.

Bestway, the largest independent food wholesale in the UK serving more than 100,000 businesses in the independent retail sector and the food service industry, was fined £8,000 for each of the three offences plus £3,792 towards Luton Borough Council's costs.

A spokesman for the firm said: "This incident happened three years ago and since then we have changed some things."

"A lot of issues have been looked at, taken into consideration and rectified so customers and employees who come into the shop can do so in safety."

Asked what changes it had made Bestway said it did not want to go into detail and that as far as it was concerned 'the depot was fine'.

At the time of the fine, Councillor Mohammed Ashraf said: "Health and safety laws are there to protect both employees and the public. Businesses must ensure they keep everyone as safe as possible at all times."

"The risk in this particular case was foreseeable and could have been easily avoided by installing fixed barriers around the bay."

Council to survey carers for ways to improve its services

A NATIONAL survey will soon be dropping on the doormats of carers of adult social care customers.

Central Bedfordshire Council is sending the questionnaire to 900 carers, selected at random, who look after a family member, partner or friend in need of support or services.

Cllr Carole Hegley said: "We know that carers are the best people to ask about how health and social care services can be improved to better meet their needs and those of the people they care for."

Visit www.centralbedfordshire.gov.uk/carers, email carers@centralbedfordshire.gov.uk or call the Central Beds Carers Helpline on 0300 300 8036 for more information on the survey.

Cabbies mugged

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

POLICE are linking two incidents involving taxi drivers being robbed on the same day.

In the first on Tuesday, at 1.10am in Russell Rise, Luton, three men approached a 51-year-old cabbie. Two of them threatened him, took his keys and demanded that he handed over money.

The driver tried to call for help over the radio but one of the men smashed it. The cabbie then managed to get out of the vehicle and run away while the robbers fled towards Russell Street with cash.

In the second robbery, at 9.20pm, a 45-year-old taxi driver collected three men and took them to Vincent Road, Luton.

When they arrived at the destination, one grabbed the cabbie from behind and held him by the neck as a second passenger – who was sitting in the front – stole cash. All three then ran away from the vehicle.

The robber who sat in the front passenger seat was black, in his early 20s, around 5ft 5ins, of slim build, wearing a black cap, beige jacket with a sheepskin collar and beige gloves with a strap across the wrist.

Although there is not a clear description of the other two, they were both said to be black and taller than the other robber.

If you have information relating to either robbery contact Detective Constable Lucy Arnold, in confidence, on 01582 473347, the non-emergency number 101, or text information to 07786 200011.

Alternatively contact independent charity Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

GRAND: Ballroom at Luton Hoo

Hoo's up for a posh wedding

IF YOU would like to see how Luton Hoo looks as a wedding venue – just as it did in movie smash hit Four Weddings and a Funeral – pop down to the plush hotel next weekend.

A wedding showcase will be held at Luton Hoo Hotel Golf and Spa from 11am-4pm to which all couples are invited.

Suites will be set out for weddings, civil ceremonies and receptions, and visitors can meet the hotel's team of wedding co-ordinators.

The hotel has an impressive pedigree when it comes to romance. In the year of their marriage in 1947, Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh visited Luton Hoo and returned to the mansion on their anniversary for several years after the event to the rooms that now form part of the Queen Elizabeth State Suite.

The former ballroom is one of the rooms where couples can now exchange their vows.

Students in the dark on TV licences

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

NEW students are unaware of the law when it comes to TV Licensing, according to new research.

As students in Luton begin university for the first time, TV Licensing has found they may be unaware of the law for watching live TV online.

More than a quarter (28 per cent) wrongly believe they do not need a licence – which costs £145.50 – when watching or streaming live TV on their laptop.

The new findings also reveal almost a third of students (31 per cent) think they do not need a licence when streaming or watching live TV on a mobile device.

The results could cause problems as students are now leading the take-up of mobile devices – with 86 per cent possessing an internet-enabled phone.

Students who watch live programmes as they are being shown on TV, without a TV Licence, risk prosecution and a fine of up to £1,000.

Victoria Sykes, TV Licensing spokeswoman for London and the South East, said: "Our new research shows how important it is for students to understand the law when it comes to watching live TV.

"We're working with universities around the UK, including the University of Bedfordshire, to ensure students who want to watch live TV can do so legally and with the peace of mind they are on the right side of the law.

"A TV Licence, at £145.50, can be bought online in minutes.

"In addition, students who buy a TV Licence at the start of the academic year could benefit from a refund if moving home for three full months over the summer."

The new student research was commissioned by TV Licensing and conducted by Harris Interactive in August among 220 students who had a conditional/firm offer accepted to start university in the past month.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

King's House Preparatory School and Nursery is Luton's only independent fee-paying school. Having 'Great Expectations' for our pupils is central to everything we do and work towards.

We have high expectations for all our pupils – we aim to ensure that all children accepted into our school as pupils at 2 and 4 years of age learn and appreciate the values of hard work, integrity and respect for others. We aim to ensure that our pupils leave King's House at the age of 11 having

- Achieved high academic standards and their full academic potential
- Learnt good manners and self-discipline
- Acquired good social skills and self-confidence

We strive to nurture every single one of our pupils so that they can grow in confidence and develop a lifelong thirst for learning and academic achievement. We know that success at school and indeed in adult life is often determined at a very young age.

That's why we believe a high quality nursery education is an essential foundation to a child's future educational career. A recent OFSTED Mathematics report ('Made to Measure' published May 2012) concluded that "children who start school at 5 years old with poor maths skills are often doomed to failure, struggling to keep up in class and never able to regain the ground lost at such an early age." This report came only weeks after the Government's Schools Commissioner, Dr Elizabeth Sidwell, warned that, "Thousands of 5 year olds arrive at school with too limited a vocabulary to take part in lessons."

ADMISSION TO NURSERY (2+) AND RECEPTION (4+)

In the Foundation Stage of the curriculum (2-5 years), the pupils are given a broad and exciting introduction to many areas of learning. Mathematics and English are at the heart of our curriculum. The ability to read is at the cornerstone of a child's education.

From this flows all other aspects of learning: writing, grammar, spelling, problem solving and general knowledge, which in turn connects to all other areas of the curriculum, such as science, languages, humanities, the arts and sport.

Every child is unique with their own personality and because we are small we are able to recognise and nurture every child's uniqueness, helping them to achieve their maximum potential. Our classes are small with a maximum of 8 children per class on admission to nursery at 2 and a maximum of 16 pupils per class in the main school.

We pride ourselves on our team of dedicated teachers and assistants who understand the children they teach and work to stretch them while at the same time helping them to strive for the best they can achieve.

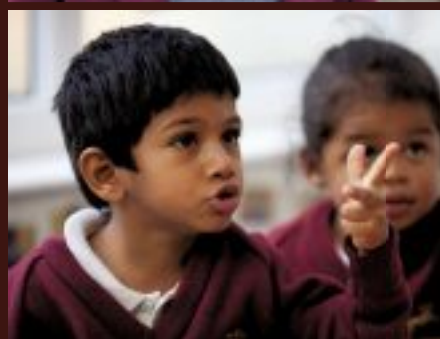

Due to the high demand for places, we are beginning our Admissions Process for September 2013 earlier than last year. For further information about our school, its future plans and Admission Process for 2013, please do not hesitate to contact and arrange a visit.

RETURNING TO LEARNING

THERE'S always a second chance in education.

If your schooling days are ones you would rather forget, then now's the time to make it right. Even the smallest things like working out the discount in sales are much easier if you've got the right qualifications.

Adult learning may be something you've never considered but it can give you new-found confidence and will really boost your skills. Courses are easy to fit round your day-to-day lifestyle and it's also a great way to meet new people. Learndirect has helped more than 2.8 million people gain new skills and nationally recognised qualifications. It's easy to sign up to an online maths or English course and other courses start at prices as low as £21.

It's worth checking though to see if you're eligible for funding as these courses may then be available at a cheaper price. Local colleges also offer a range of courses to help you out. People of all ages take these courses so don't feel as though you're going to be stepping into a school full of young people. If you regret not going to university then it's never too late to get a degree. The Open University has developed programmes which can lead to a range of different qualifications and they're all flexible to suit you. If you're looking to get back into work, you may be able to take part in the New Deal or other programmes for unemployed people. If you want an informal and confidential chat about improving your skills, call the Government-funded Get On helpline on 0800 660800.

Carpenter nails 'Phantom' role

BY JUDY RILEY

judy.riley@lntmedia.co.uk

WHEN his dad bought Earl Carpenter his first stereo back in the 1980s, he could not possibly have known that he would be carving out a little slice of history.

Along with the treasured possession, came a double cassette of The Phantom of the Opera.

"I'd always loved Michael Crawford as Frank Spencer in Some Mothers Do 'Ave 'Em" says Earl "and I listened to the tape over and over again."

Fast forward 25 years and Earl knows the part even better. "I've been in the musical theatre industry for 20 years and considering how fickle a business it is, the fact that I am now part of Phantom's history is just - wow!"

Having played the Phantom in London, Earl is now starring in the UK tour of the world's most successful musical.

He says of the show's popularity: "It's a classic Beauty and the Beast story. It's theatrical escapism - you couldn't ask for a better story. It's a visual extravaganza and Andrew Lloyd Webber's most fantastic score."

"It's an emotional journey and it's what live theatre is all about but it's competing with every other form of entertainment out there. I challenge anyone to see the show and not be thrilled by the whole experience."

"The new design of the touring show is very exciting. The style of this particular version of Phantom is very different from the London show which favours a more melodramatic style."

THE Phantom of the Opera has been seen by more than 130 million people in more than 27 countries. This week, it arrives in Milton Keynes for a five-week run. JUDY RILEY talked to EARL CARPENTER, the Phantom himself, about this new touring production - and his original introduction to the show.

"In the 80s, when the show first opened, you could get away with that more easily along with the symphonic orchestration and the big black box of a set but this production has a 'realness' about it; there's no place for melodrama here."

"It's an iconic musical. A lot of people love the London production and it's difficult to let go of what you love but this touring version is a very different animal."

For Earl, it's been quite a personal journey. "It's something I had to agree to six or seven months in advance. In essence, playing the part of the Phantom in the tour is similar to performing it in London because I know the show so well. But with this new production, I have the opportunity to explore new ideas and after 20 years in the business the creative team trusts me to do that."

It wasn't all plain sailing though. "In London, I was employed as a 'walking cover' of the Phantom - that is an understudy to a role but not one that is also playing another smaller part in the show."

"They were considering me to take over the role and they wanted to see whether I could do it. So they gave the actor who was playing the role the afternoon off and it just so happened that both Cameron Mackintosh and Andrew Lloyd Webber were in the theatre, together, that day - it was the first time that had ever happened!"

"It was almost as scary as being the auctioneer in the Phantom 25th Anniversary concert at the Royal Albert Hall. That was terrifying! There's always that demon in your head saying you're going to mess up, you're going to forget what you are supposed to say!"

So how do you move on from playing a part like this? "You've got to look at the big picture and be conscious of where you fit in to it" he says. "Branding is important in this business. They cast young and when you reach a certain time of life you automatically get shoved into an older age bracket and then the parts are thinning out."

"For me, it's a new chapter after this tour. Without blowing my own trumpet, I've been in every single musical around but you can't plan for the future in this business."

"You do have to be confident and strong enough to stay with it which is why, although the tour goes on until the end of May, I'm not going to have a flu jab. I'm old school - unless you're dying, you go on!"

Phantom of the Opera opens at MK Theatre on Thursday. For tickets contact 0844 8717652.

Trevor's ripping stories

AN AUDIENCE WITH JACK THE RIPPER

Grove Theatre, Dunstable
Wednesday, October 31, 7.30pm

AN Audience with Jack the Ripper is a two hour show hosted by retired British police murder squad detective Trevor Marriott (above) where he talks about and describes his lengthy investigation – and discloses the new startling results.

Since 2002 Mr Marriott has been conducting a cold case investigation into the Whitechapel Murders of 1888 which were attributed to a fearsome killer who came to be known as Jack the Ripper.

His one-man show is packed with pictures from 1888 showing original crime scene photographs of the victims, the suspects, together with many other original photographs from 1888 relative to the murders.

For the past 123 years this mystery has captivated the imagination of people worldwide and still does today.

CONTEMPORARY BARN CONVERSION £1,450,000

Converted in 2002 this superb four double bedroom barn conversion provides an exclusive and peaceful setting for family life. The house has been tastefully re-designed during our current clients tenure to produce a property of impeccable quality and offers versatile accommodation that consists of; a gorgeous entrance hall with a galleried landing. There is a spacious living room with views over the gardens and beyond present distant views of the rolling Hertfordshire landscape. There is a separate family room and a luxurious WC. There is also a study but the focal point of the ground floor is a quite breath-taking kitchen-family-diner finished to the highest standard and presenting the three separate functions for living with access onto the gardens. A rare chance to escape the ardors of the day!

The all-new Honda CR-V has arrived and will preview at Dunstable Honda this Tuesday.

The last generation Honda CR-V was launched in 2007, a time when pressure groups and law-makers were ganging up on anything that was styled like an off-roader. But the British-built five-seater lived up to its marketing slogan – proving 'not all 4x4s are the same' and has gone on to become one of the most popular sports utility vehicles of all time. Its success is based on an appealing mix of refined road manners, a powerful eco-friendly diesel engine and a flexible interior that's fantastically practical.

On paper, the all-new CR-V seems like a sure-fire hit. The fourth generation model has kept all of the above, improved it where appropriate, become more fuel efficient, and wrapped the whole package up in a striking and contemporary exterior design. Changes from the outgoing model include a more integrated front-end, plus a new 'feature line' down the side which links the door handles together.

The Honda's dynamic performance is still its strongest suit. The elevated driving position creates a commanding view of the road ahead, while the front seats are exceptionally comfortable and supportive, with a huge range of adjustability. The car accelerates smoothly with either the six-speed manual or five-speed automatic transmission. It has the agility of a much smaller vehicle and holds the line perfectly through corners – not something you can say of all SUVs. It's also a superior motorway cruiser, but equally at home round town doing the supermarket run. A four-wheel drive powertrain is available on both diesel and petrol versions of the CR-V, with the option of a 2WD transmission on the latter. Depending on specification, fuel economy is as high as 50.4mpg and CO2 emissions as low as 149g/km.

Inside, you'll find all the practical storage and smart thinking for which the CR-V is rightly famed, plus some new examples. Take the rear seats, which now split 60/40 and 'auto-fold' flat via levers fitted in the boot trim. The door bins are now 'double decker', with a small section above the main storage for placing very small items. The sliding central arm rest has a spacious storage area under its flip-top lid, plus connection ports for external electronic devices. Further back are deep rear door bins – great for kids' stuff – and in the boot there's everything you can think of to help safe load-carrying, including lashing eyes, nets and hooks for bags.

The all-new Honda CR-V takes the best bits of a tried and tested formula and makes them better, while improving others areas significantly. It's a fabulous new car and as the saying goes, not all 4x4s are the same.

For your chance to be one of the first in the country to view the new Honda CR-V and pre-book a test drive call Dunstable Honda on 0843 224 4780 today to reserve your place at their launch event this Tuesday 23rd October from 3pm to 8pm. # Gray and Shaw strike to see Hatters through in FA Cup

FOOTBALL

FA CUP FOURTH ROUND QUALIFYING
CAMBRIDGE UNITED 0
LUTON TOWN 2

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON Town sailed through to the next round of the FA Cup, beating Cambridge United with an assured and confident performance at the Abbey Stadium.

A torrential downpour denied Andre Gray the chance to play for the England C team in Albania on Tuesday and he seemed keen to make up for the frustration of that night.

The striker was instrumental in the win, netting an early goal and setting up Jon Shaw for the second following a storming run from in his own half, earning his side a £12,500 prize and a place in the draw for the first round proper of the competition.

Arnaud Mendy was handed his first start after signing for the club on loan from Macclesfield on Friday, and he too had an impressive game, providing an assist for the first goal and imposing himself on the mid-field battle.

The earlier start of 1pm appeared to have no adverse effect on the Hatters, who got off to almost the perfect start with Gray netting in the seventh minute.

Mendy did well to win the ball and cross it to the striker, who burst into the box and unleashed a low shot into the bottom corner.

Enjoying the majority of possession and pressing forward, the Hatters were presented with a chance to double their lead from the spot, after Stuart Fleetwood was felled by Ricky Wellard in the box.

But the penalty hoodoo from last season – they missed seven in all competitions – returned again as the striker stepped up and hit the bar with his attempt. Shaw then compounded matters by blasting the rebound over.

IN ACTION: New loan signing Arnaud Mendy battles for possession

Just when they looked in complete control of the game, the afternoon took a worrying turn when Alex Lawless was carried off on a stretcher off after sustaining an injury to his left leg. He required treatment after a strong but firm challenge from Ricky Wellard and it was a surprise when he was carried off.

Manager Paul Buckle confirmed after the game that the injury was not as serious as first thought, believing last week's two-goal hero had sustained only bruising to the ankle. The injury created an opportunity for Matt Robinson, who made an almost immediate impact on the game with a strike which forced Jonathan Hedge, the Cambridge keeper, into making a save.

It was not all one-way traffic though. As the half progressed, Ronnie Henry, the Luton captain, was forced to block a dangerous effort from Jonathon Thorpe while Luke Berry saw a header saved by Mark Tyler and then missed the rebound by inches.

The Hatters survived two further close shaves from the home side early in the second half. Michael Gash curled the ball past Tyler but his effort hit the post and came back out to the substitute, Tom Shaw, who with his first kick of the game, lofted the ball over the empty net.

What Luton did need was the cushion of a second goal and they got it when Gray went on a barnstorming run, which began inside his own half, beat three men and cut the ball in-field to the waiting Shaw, who gleefully buried it in the back of the net and sealed the win.

Ainge disappointed as weather stops England C game

FOOTBALL

BY MARC BAZELEY

sport@lntmedia.co.uk

ROY HODGSON'S England team were not the only national representative side to be plagued by inclement weather in eastern Europe this week.

In a remarkable twist of fate, England's C team also saw their friendly match with the Albania national side called off just hours before kick-off because of a torrential downpour.

Yet unlike their senior counterparts, the Non-league team did not have their game hastily rescheduled, meaning the likes of Luton Town's Simon Ainge and Andre Gray endured a wasted 3,320 mile and five-hour round-trip.

The squad had been getting ready to go out for their warm-up when the heavens opened, leaving three to four inches of water covering the playing surface at Niko Donova Stadium and the dressing room and the car park flooded.

The players ended up killing the time by watching Spain's 1-1 draw with France on TV.

"It was massively disappointing," said Ainge. "I always like going away with England C because you get to travel to all different countries that might never have gone to in your life."

Yet Ainge managed to somehow draw positives from the trip.

"It's good to be able to spend time with the coaching staff and [England C manager] Paul Fairclough as well," Ainge said. "He holds a lot of meetings and does a lot on the psychological part of the game, so it wasn't a wasted trip."

"He gives you a lot of different exercises to do for things like when you're losing in games, and I have actually used a lot of them during matches."

Ainge, 24, was not able to play in Luton's FA Cup victory over Cambridge United yesterday due to the terms of his loan deal from Blue Square Bet North outfit Guseley.

That means his next game will not be until Saturday's trip to Forest Green Rovers. "Obviously I want to be playing and I was hoping that the England game would keep me ticking over until next week," Ainge said.

"But now I'm going to have to do some running on my own and work with a fitness coach to make sure that I'm ready for Forest Green next week, which we know is going to be a massive game."

Hatters team mate Gray, along with Adam Watkins, who is currently out on loan at Kidderminster Harriers, was also part of the 16-man squad that travelled to Albania.

Luton manager Paul Buckle was pleased with how Gray, who scored the winner for England C in their game against Belgium last month, has responded since returning to the club.

"Andre is a young lad and is someone that doesn't let things like that affect him," said Buckle. "Since he's been back, he's been up and at it, he's done extra training, and it doesn't seem to have had an impact at all."

RUGBY ROUND-UP

BY TIM BARTLETT

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LONDON ONE NORTH

LUTON 57
CHINGFORD 26

THIS weekend's visitors to Newland's Road demonstrated that the only way is not Essex, as they were systematically dismantled and dispatched with a score line that ultimately flattered them.

Pick of the afternoon's performers was Luton's Tesh Edwards, who bagged four tries and played with flair, showed quick hands, and always looked a danger in and around the ball.

Rick Hobbs certainly brought his kicking boots, scoring two penalties and nailing four out of a possible six first-half conversions. Edwards opened the scoring for Luton, before Michael Weston, Steven Ellis added to the home sides points haul. David Irvine went over for Luton's bonus-point try on 28 minutes, as the home side looked unstoppable.

As the half drew to a close, Hobbs went over to score, but was unable to add the conversion to his first-half points tally.

The second half became something of the Edwards and Andre Paku road. Paku ran in the first of his two tries as the second half got underway, before Edwards scored the first of his second-half brace by way of a running backs break. Edwards went over for his hat trick ten minutes into the second half thanks to some excellent work by Aiden Kenny. Andre Paku added his second midway through the second half, which concluded the scoring for the home side. Chingford added a couple of converted tries to their afternoons work late on, to add some respectability to a game that, in all honesty, they were never really in.

MIDLANDS TWO EAST (SOUTH)

DUNSTABLIANS 48
BIGGLESWADE 7

DUNSTABLIANS showed the hallmarks of a quality outfit as they won convincingly at home while not managing to play anywhere near their best.

That said, they were playing a struggling Biggleswade side, and will undoubtedly face much stronger tests this season.

The home side lead 19-0 at the interval thanks to tries from Shaun Mangan, Jake Hobbs and Alex Ayers, with a further four points coming from the boot of Jake Hobbs by way of two conversions.

The second half saw little respite for the visitors, as Alex Ayers ran in his second try of the game. This was followed by tries from Stuart Calder, Kevin Boland, and Gav Denny, two of which were converted by Jake Hobbs.

Boland's try was the pick of the day's scores by the D's, finishing an impressive backs move, and demonstrating the depth of quality Dunstablians have in their ranks.

MIDLANDS THREE EAST

STEWARTS & LLOYDS 21
STOCKWOOD PARK 11

STOCKWOOD Park travelled to table topping Stewarts & Lloyd having yet to pick up a victory this season in the Midlands Three (East), but can consider themselves unfortunate not to have turned the form book on its head.

The Luton outfit trailed at the break 8-6, registering two Jason Carr penalties in reply to the home sides early, unconverted, try and a penalty kicked at the end of the first period. On balance Stockwood were unlucky to be behind having enjoyed the lion's share of the territory and possession in the first 40 minutes.

The second half started well for the visitors who went ahead thanks to a Darren May try set up by the quick hands of Casey Waterfield. Stewarts kicked a penalty to level the scores before going over for a try, which was duly converted putting the home side 18-11 ahead.

A further penalty was conceded by the travelling Lutonians to leave them trailing 21-11 with five minutes left. The close of the game was nicely set up by Steven Pollock, initiating a blind-side break, gathering up his own up and under, before putting in Ben Griffen to score. Stockwood pressed hard, and applied considerable pressure in the closing minutes, but were unable to reduce the deficit further.

EVO-STICK SOUTHERN LEAGUE DIVISION ONE CENTRAL

BARTON ROVERS 2
NORTHWOOD 1

BARTON Rovers recorded their first win since the end of August by defeating a Northwood side who were reduced to ten men.

Rovers led from the fifth minute, Aaron Lansiquot scoring a fine individual goal but Barton's frailties in defence resurfaced. Northwood equalised soon after with Adamson Ajayi scrambling the ball home from close range after a cross wasn't properly cleared.

Ricky Case restored the Rovers lead on 40 minutes though, striking the ball home on the half volley from 18 yards.

Northwood's physical approach cost them on 54 minutes when Danny McDonnall received two yellow cards in quick succession and from that moment on, they never looked like troubling the Barton goal.

Rovers could have increased their lead, Case forcing a save from the Northwood goal.

SPARTAN SOUTH MIDLANDS LEAGUE PREMIER DIVISION

AMPHILL TOWN 4
AFC DUNSTABLE 6

AFC DUNSTABLE twice came from two goals down to defeat Amptihill Town in a ten-goal thriller.

Manager Alex Butler was delighted with the victory but concerned with the defensive performance of his team.

"While it was not good defensively the lads showed great character in coming from behind like they did against a very good side," Butler said. "It was certainly entertaining and maybe this will help bring crowds back to the games."

Amptihill took control early on with two quick goals from Michael McKenzie and Stefan Kemongoa but AFC halved the arrears before half time through Dean Hitchcock. Kemongoa restored Amptihill's two-goal advantage just after the break but AFC then took control.

They scored through four times Hitchcock, BJ Christie, Graeme Clark and Richard Harker, with a cracker, to lead 5-3. Amptihill set up a tense finish by scoring a fourth through McKenzie but Christie made things safe for AFC who now move above Amptihill in the table.

DUNSTABLE TOWN 5
ST MARGARETSBURY 3

A LEE Roache hat-trick helped Dunstable maintain their unbeaten start to the season in an exciting and physical game.

Roache opened the scoring on 17 minutes with a fine finish and he made it 2-0 just after the break, lobbing the keeper after collecting a pass from a Jonathan Cooper. The visitors got back into the game on 51 minutes, Ricky Light winning a dubious penalty which he converted himself but St Margaretsbury were reduced to ten men eight minutes later when Baird saw red after a foul on Roach.

Dunstable extended their lead through Danny Hutchins on 78 minutes but St Margaretsbury pulled a goal back through Stevie Tutalamo on 85 minutes. A Chris Francis goal made it 4-2 a minute later but the game was still wide open when Leigh Rose made it 4-3 on 90 minutes. Roach wrapped up the scoring and made it 13 games unbeaten for Town with his third goal deep into injury time.

But manager Dan Kenney was more than happy with three points and an end to their winless run.

SOUTH MIDLANDS LEAGUE DIVISION ONE

CHESHAM UNITED 2
CRAWLEY GREEN 3

CRAWLEY came from behind to claim all three points in a five-goal thriller. Karl Lewis sprinted through to give Chesham the lead at half time but after the break, Crawley began to create chances.

It was not until the 73rd minute that they equalised, Vinny Shrieves picking up a ball from Chris Gibson to fire home. Gibson was again provider in the 81st minute, sliding a pass to Shrieves who obliged with a deft lob from 20 yards to put Crawley ahead.

The lead lasted less than a minute though, Chesham equalising through Tim Shaw. Crawley got the win their performance deserved on 87 minutes, Gibson flicking on a long throw for Lee Loasby to hook the ball home for the win.

SOUTH MIDLANDS LEAGUE DIVISION TWO CUP

WOLVERTON TOWN 2
THE 61FC 3

MANAGER Richard Everitt was delighted to see The 61 progress in an end to end game that yielded goals, 12 yellow cards and a sending off. Wolverton took the lead on the half hour but a Kevin McManus goal brought them level again within a few minutes.

Wolverton retook the lead on 40 minutes when Jamie Irons left a back pass horrendously short but McManus again equalised, chesting the ball down and firing home to make the score 2-2 at half time. The game got increasingly physical during the second half with Wolverton having a man sent off. The 61 ensured their place in the next round when Arthur Wallace chipped the goalkeeper.

TOTTENHOE 1
TRING CORINTHIANS 2

Manager John Power was furious at the lack of concentration that led to two sloppy goals as Totternhoe bowed out of the cup.

Tring never looked like scoring in a first half dominated by the home side but two quick goals after the break stunned Totternhoe and a Stefan Tracey goal with ten minutes to go was not enough.

Gray: Bring on the draw

FOOTBALL

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.com

ANDRE GRAY, yesterday's match-winner, says Luton Town are eagerly-awaiting this afternoon's draw for the first round of the FA Cup.

The Hatters ensured they are in the hat with the Football League clubs for the 1.30pm draw after defeating Cambridge United 2-0 in an early kick-off at the Abbey Stadium. Gray scored one and made the other for Jon Shaw against a home side managed by former Luton Town boss Richard Money.

Gray said he would be happy with whoever the club play in the next round.

"It doesn't really matter," Gray said. "Of course you would prefer a lower league team at home, but whatever is thrown at us, whether it is a league one or two side, will be a great experience regardless."

Manager Paul Buckle said he was "delighted" with his side's performance, which could have been garnished by a third goal had Stuart Fleetwood not missed a penalty.

"We were desperate to get through," Buckle said. "We love the FA Cup and we wanted to be in the next round. We were away from home so you can expect pressure at some point, and Cambridge didn't disappoint, but we soaked that up and look dangerous on the counter attack."

"Our tactics worked a treat."

Buckle even managed to see the funny side of yet another penalty miss. The Hatters missed seven last season.

"If we had scored the penalty, the game would really have been beyond them," said Buckle. "I think that Scott Rendell (who missed the game through injury) will be laughing that Fleetwood missed as they've been having a bit of banter about penalties. But in all seriousness, we would have expected him to score and it would have made things a lot easier for us."

Despite the miss, the boss had praise for all of his players, including new signing Arnaud Mendy who joined from Macclesfield Town on Friday.

"Arnaud looks like a class act and is someone who we've wanted to bring to the club for a while now," said Buckle.

"Matt Robinson (who came on for the injured Alex Lawless) looked great, Andre Gray showed his pace, you could see how delighted Jon Shaw was with his goal and Ronnie Henry put in some great blocks."

"I've told the players that they all need to be ready, they are all capable – they wouldn't be here if they weren't."

"Today was about more than just a win and I'm delighted."

Luton reached the second round last year before being knocked out by Cheltenham Town.

THAT'S MY BOY: Team-mates congratulate Jon Shaw
